

NAVY ALL-STARS

VS

ARMY ALL-STARS

FOURTH GAME

in

CENTRAL PACIFIC AREA
CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

NAVAL AIR STATION KANEOHE

CAPT. NOLAN M. KINDELL, USN, COMMANDING OFFICER
COMDR. WALTER E. PREMO, JR., USNR, EXECUTIVE OFFICER

FLEET AIR WING DETACHMENT

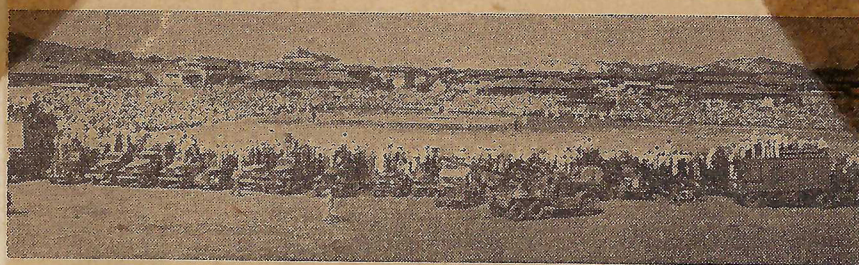

REAR ADMIRAL JOHN D. PRICE, USN, COMMANDING OFFICER
COMDR. FRANCIS E. BARDWELL, USN, CHIEF OF STAFF

AMERICANS are a sports-loving people. They enjoy keen competition, and thrive on participation. When participation is impossible it is natural for them to enjoy even the role of a spectator—this role has its thrills too. This love and interest in sports is carried overseas by members of the armed forces.

But one of the greatest voids for the service man overseas is his inability to see his favorite big-time athletic events. Through the cooperation of ranking officers in the services, this void has been overcome partially through an influx of star athletes in all sports. Baseball season found Hawaii and the units operating in this area blessed with the opportunity of being able to see truly big-league baseball. Many of yesterday's headline performers now wear the uniform of Uncle Sam.

These same heroes of many major league campaigns are continuing to play baseball—this time they play after their duly assigned military duties have been performed. This time they're playing free for their service buddies. Their contribution then is a dual one, and it is appreciated.

Competition by service teams has been keen all season, and it is fitting that an all-star series be staged as a climax. Few of the famous games between American League and National League all-stars boasted more representative and outstanding players than will be seen here today.

This is only a portion of the largest crowd that will take in an athletic event at the NAS Kaneohe athletic fields for many an Oahu rainbow. There were seats for only 7,000 when the Army met the Navy here in the fourth game of the Central Pacific Area Championship Series for baseball honors. However, almost that many more found a vantage point to see the game. Note the weapon carriers, pick-up trucks, and other types of vehicles which were parked around the barriers—even one crane, just aft the scoreboard in left field, gave some fellows a good view of the game. Navy won by 10-5, and clinched title honors.

U. S. ARMY

U. S. NAVY

C&D
ChevronsandDiamonds.org

Admiral
CHESTER W. NIMITZ, USN
Commander-in-Chief Pacific Fleet

Lieutenant General
ROBERT C. RICHARDSON, Jr. USA
Commanding General,
Army Troops Pacific Ocean Areas

Vice Admiral
ROBERT L. GHORMLEY, USN
Commandant 14th Naval District and
Commander Hawaiian Sea Frontier

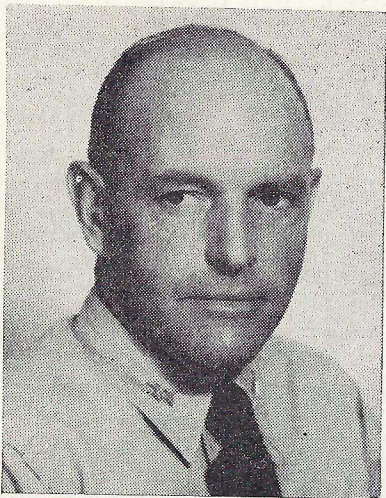

Lieutenant General
MILLARD W. HARMON, USA
Commanding General,
Army Air Forces Pacific Ocean Areas

NAVAL Air Station Kaneohe this afternoon is scheduled to play host to the fourth game in the Central Pacific Area Championship Series. It is a rare privilege for the armed forces on Windward Oahu to see so much talent on a baseball field. Actually it is probably the largest number of high-salaried baseball players to take part in a playoff series in the history of the game. No World Series has been able to offer so many brilliant players. Not even the annual all-star games between teams representing the National League and the American League had so much to offer.

Any baseball fan easily can imagine what this series would draw in the Mainland. Just as in Hawaii, each game would be played before a packed stadium. Each seat would be taken long before the Umpire bawled, "Play ball!" Think what one would have to pay to see such a series—the price for the tickets could be an installment on a mink wrap for the One-and-Only. Your good Uncle Sam is staging this series for you and for free—even the programs will not cost his favorite Nephews a penny.

Moving pictures of the games are scheduled to be made, and are to be shown to service men all over the Pacific, and are scheduled to be released to your favorite neighborhood theater. Even the men in the most advanced Pacific areas will hear of the games—they will get it via radio programs, special for them.

Lieut. Bill Dickey, immortal Yankee catcher, is coach and manager of the Navy All-Stars. He is assisted by Lieut. Wes Schulmerich, former major leaguer, who is the Athletic Officer of NAS Kaneohe. 1st Lt. Tom Winsett, former Dodger, is manager of the Army All-Stars.

Captain
NOLAN M. KINDELL, USN
 Commanding Officer,
 Naval Air Station Kaneohe

COMMANDER
W. E. PREMO, Jr., USNR
 Executive Officer,
 Naval Air Station Kaneohe

Rear Admiral
JOHN D. PRICE, USN
 Commanding Officer,
 Fleet Air Wing Detachment

Major General
ROB'T. DOUGLASS, Jr., USA
 Commanding General,
 Seventh Air Force

Brigadier General
WILLIAM J. FLOOD, USA
 Chief of Staff,
 Seventh Air Force

NAVY ALL-STARS vs ARMY ALL-STARS

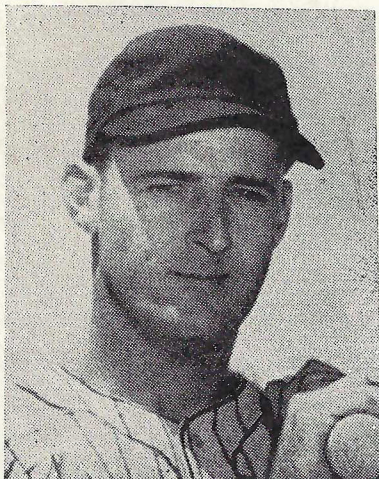

ARMY ALL-STARS

No.	Player	Pos.
1	Bob Dillinger	3b
2	Dario Lodigiani	2b
3	Walter Judnich	rf
4	Joe DiMaggio	cf
5	Mike McCormick	lf
6	Joe Gordon	ss
7	Ferris Fain	1b
8	Charles Silvera	c
9	Wilford Leonard	c
10	Jim Ashworth	c
11	Hank Edwards	cf
12	Don Lang	lf
13	R. Ardizoia	p
19	Ace Eroutt	p
25	Al Lein	p
16	Johnny Beazley	p
17	A. DeCarlo	c
18	Eddie Funk	p
27	Carl DeRose	p
15	Sid Gautreaux	c
23	Hal Hairston	p
20	Tom Winsett	Mgr.
21	Don Schmidt	p
22	Kearney Kohlmeier	ss
23	Dick Molberg	p
24	Bill Schmidt	p
29	J. Schumbres	Coach
30	J. Clarke	Coach

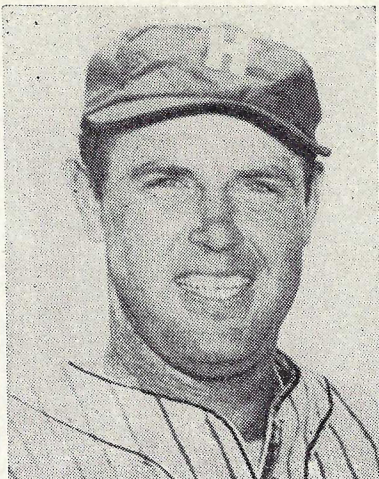

[illegible][illegible][illegible]

NAVY ALL-STARS

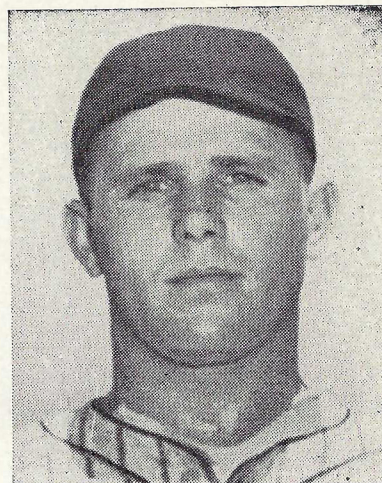

No.	Player	Pos.
32	Johnny Mize	1b
29	Eddie Shokes	1b
2	Phil Rizzuto	ss
17	Al Brancato	3b
21	Sol Recca	3b
5	Johnny Lucadello	2b
34	PeeWee Reese	ss
4	Tom Bishop	ss
20	Gene Jeandron	2b
11	Dom DiMaggio	cf
13	Moe Mozzalli	cf
3	Barney McCosky	cf
28	Joe Grace	rf
9	John Berry	rf
16	Jim Carlin	lf
31	Gordon Evans	lf
18	Marv Felderman	c
1	Vince Smith	c
14	Ziggie Sears	c
10	Norman Atkinson	c
15	George Dickey	c
23	Rankin Johnson	p
26	Arne Anderson	p
24	Bob Harris	p
26	Lynn (Schoolboy) Rowe	p
26	Walter Masterson	p
30	Verne Olson	p
19	Oscar Sessions	p
	Hank Feimster	p
29	Jack Hallet	p
27	Johnny Vander Meer	p
12	Jim Adair	p
27	Hugh Casey	p
22	Virgil Trucks	p
31	Tom Ferrick	p
28	Bill Dickey	Mgr.
30	Wes Schulmerich	Asst.Mgr.
6	Dave Leibold	Bat Boy

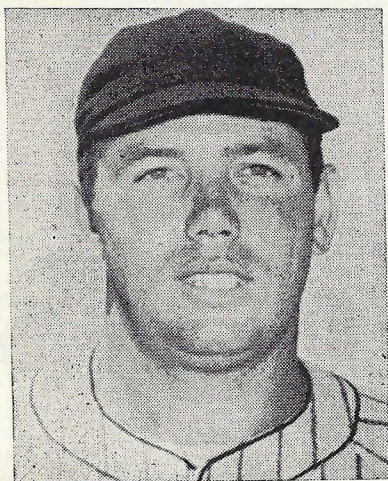

JOE GRACE, rf-1b
St. Louis Browns

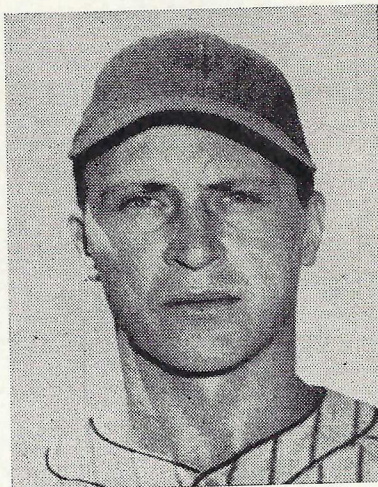

HANK FEIMSTER, p
Boston Red Sox

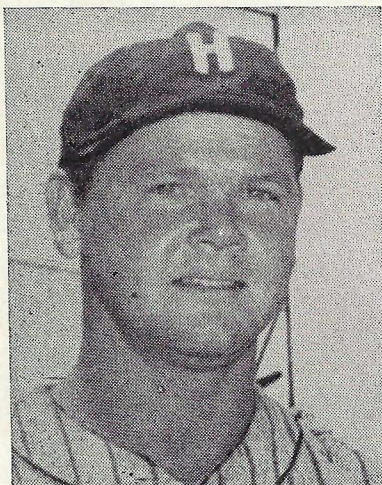

VIRGIL (Fire) TRUCKS, p
Detroit Tigers

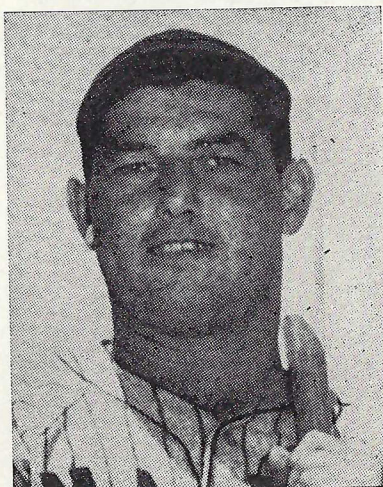

TOM FERRICK, p
Cleveland Indians

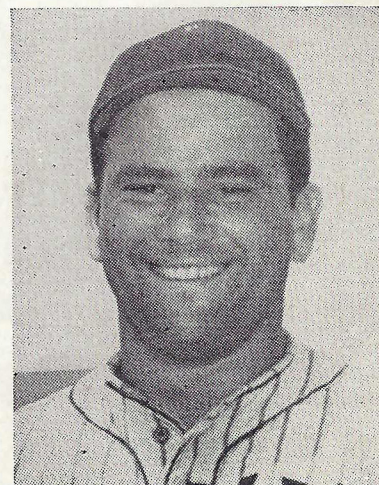

BOB HARRIS, p
Philadelphia Athletics

JIM CARLIN, lf
Philadelphia Phillies

KEN (Ziggy) SEARS, c
New York Yankees

JOHNNY LUCADELLO, 2b
St. Louis Browns

JOHNNY BEAZLEY, p
St. Louis Cardinals

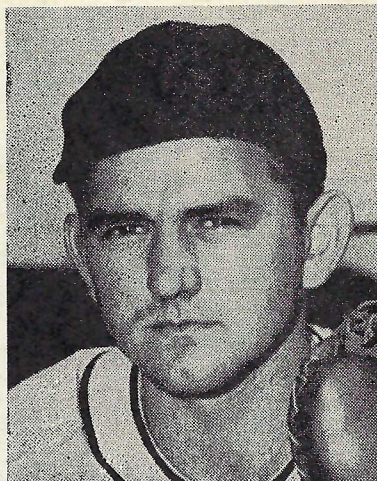

MIKE McCORMICK, lf
Cincinnati Reds

AL LIEN, p
San Francisco Seals

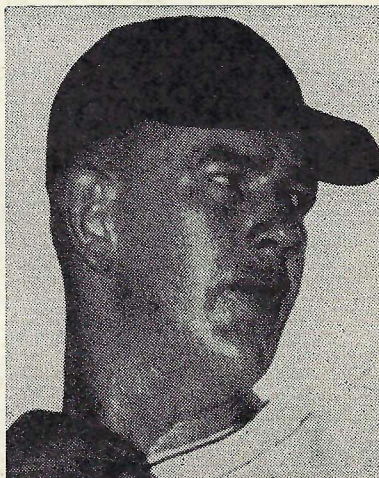

BOB DILLINGER, 3b
Toledo Mud Hens

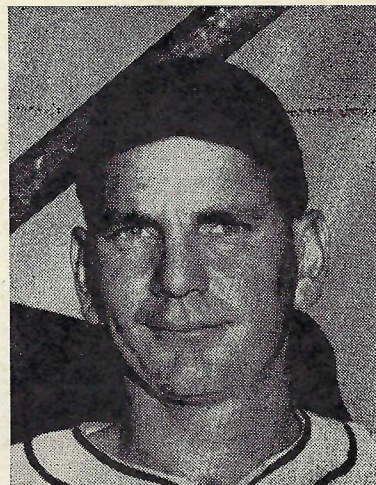

CHARLES SILVERA, c
Kansas City Blues

DARIO LODIGIANI, 2b
Chicago White Sox

CARL De ROSE, p
Amsterdam

DON LANG, lf
Indianapolis Indians

WALT JUHNICH, rf
St. Louis Browns

JOE DiMAGGIO, cf
New York Yankees

FERRIS (Cocky) FAIN, 1b
San Francisco Seals

BARNEY McCOSKY, cf
Detroit Tigers

VERNE OLSON, p
Chicago Cubs

BILL SCHMIDT, p
Sacramento Oaks

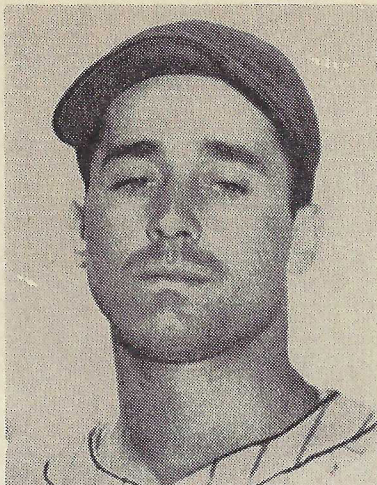

JOHNNY VANDER MEER, p
Cincinnati Reds

JOE GORDON, ss
New York Yankees

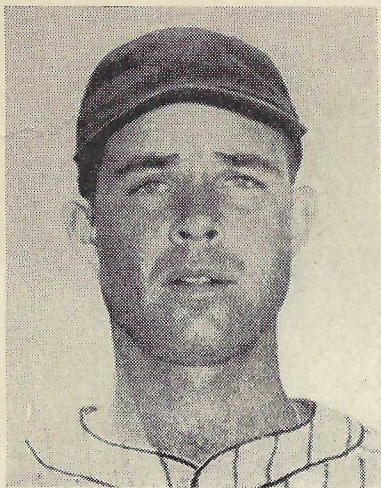

JACK HALLETT, p
Pittsburgh Pirates

AL BRANCATO, 3b-ss
Philadelphia Athletics

EDDIE SHOKES, 1b
Syracuse Chiefs

RANKIN JOHNSON, p
Philadelphia Athletics

LT. BILL DICKEY, Manager
New York Yankees

MARVIN FELDERMAN, c
Chicago Cubs

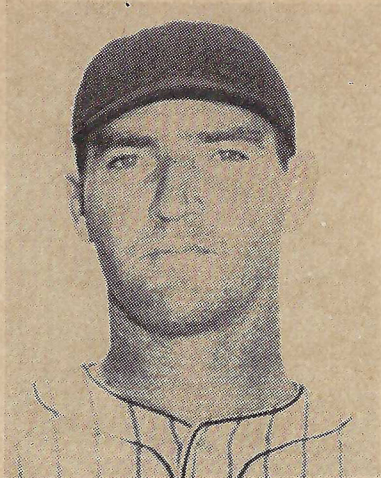

PEE WEE REESE, ss
Brooklyn Dodgers

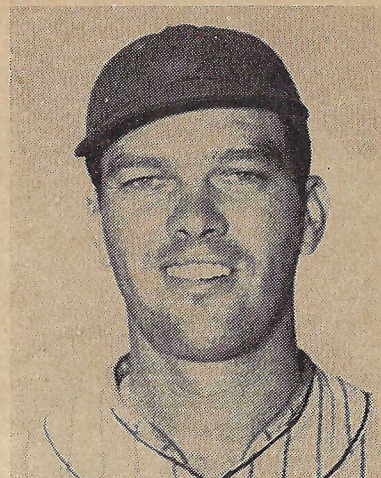

DOM DiMAGGIO, cf
Boston Red Sox

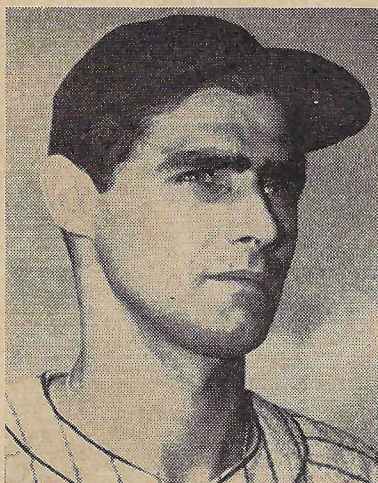

JOHNNY MIZE, 1b
New York Giants

LYNN (Schoolboy) ROWE, p
Detroit Tigers

GEORGE DICKEY, c
Chicago White Sox

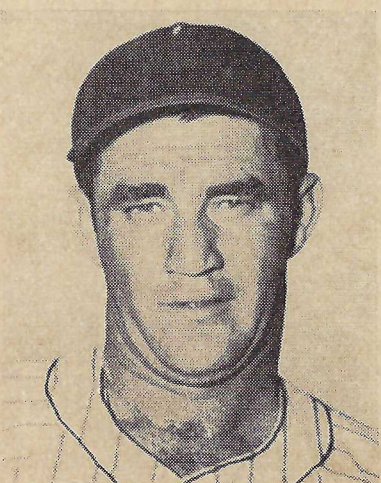

WALTER MASTERSON, p
Washington Nationals

LT. WES SCHULMERICH
Ass't Mgr. — Cincinnati Reds

PHIL RIZZUTO, 3b-ss
New York Yankees

VINCE SMITH, c
Pittsburgh Pirates

HUGH CASEY, p
Brooklyn Dodgers