

16TH INFANTRY REGIMENT

BASEBALL
CLASS "A" LEAGUE

DAGWOOD FIELD

LANDSHUT, GERMANY

16TH INF. REGT.

VS

26TH INF. REGT.

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY, May 25, 26, 1946 1400 HOURS

OFFICIAL PROGRAM

The 16th's Regimental Commander, Colonel John R. Jeter, who started the baseball team on their way to a very successful start in quest of another title, by throwing out the first ball, is one of the teams staunchest supporters.

Before the season opened the Colonel made several visits to the ball park, to watch the progress of the squads daily workouts, and to give his full support in any matters that would benefit the team.

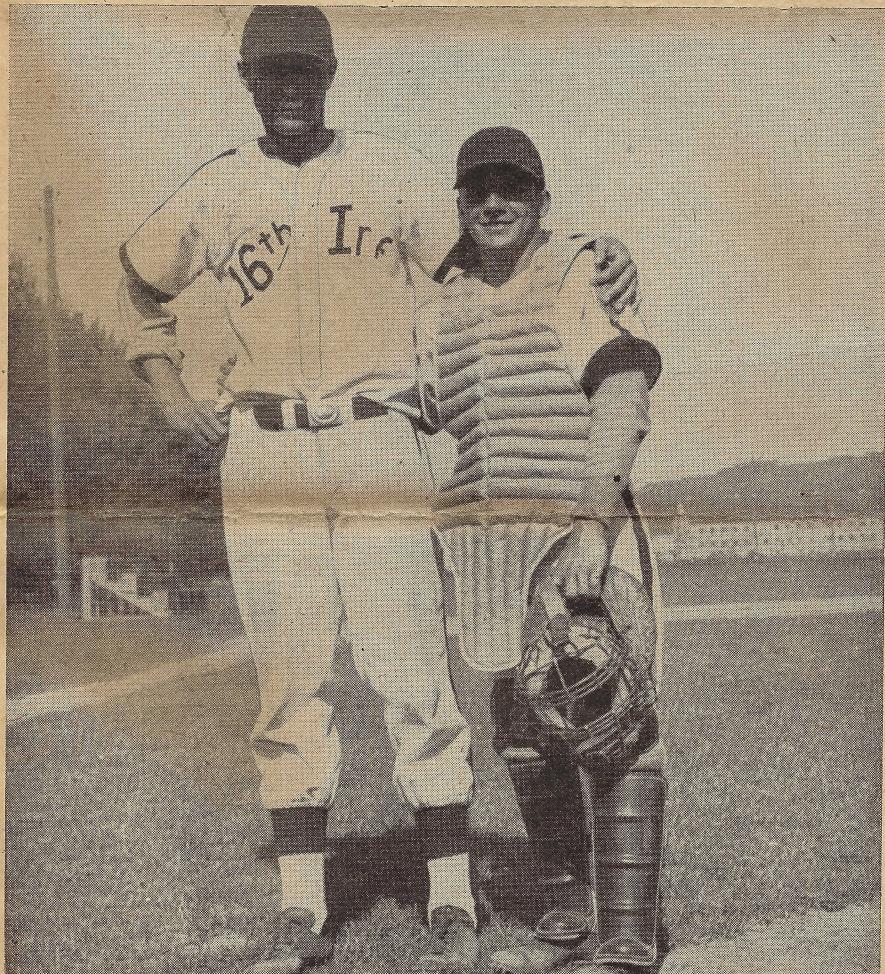

The Colonel himself is a sport-loving man. While attending West Point he participated in every sport, starring in polo.

His vigilance and loyalty to the game of baseball and the team itself, is one of the main reasons the 16th is resting in first place today.

Kieger has two victories against one set-back so far this year. His only defeat came at the hands of the 26th and he will endeavor to even things up this week-end when he strolls to the mound for the 16th, in one of the two games.

Dick Hoover or Sig Starcheski is expected to see action in the other game. Both men have two wins without a defeat so far this season.
